

Brianna Rodriguez:

New York City should lower the price of food. People can't afford it, People won't waste a lot of their money, and people will starve.

New York should lower the price of food. people cant afford it. If people cant afford the food then what will they eat? If i go to Mcdonalds i can only get a hamburger because its only $1 thats not good for my body . If i only eat cereal for my every meal because its the only thing i can afford then i wont get enough nutrients.

New york should lower the price of food. people wont waste a lot of their money.

if people waste a lot of their money then they might not have enough to pay for there bills and they wont have electricity or heat. If i don't have enough money then i cant buy any cloths for the winter to keep me warm.

New york should lower the price of food because people will starve.If these people cant get food then how will they survive? Especially now that we are on cortine we need food but we cant get the food if its all to much money.An example for all of this is my dad gets food from this website called COVID it delivers one or two boxes with drinks and food. My dad has a lot of money left because he has saved his money that he gets from his job before the coronavirus started.

New york should lower the price of food,people cant afford it, people wont waste a lot of their money and people will starve and if people starve then they might starve to death. If people don't have enough money then they also cant go grocery shopping.